Print Subscription Terms of Service

International buyers, please note that on rare occasions customs holds a product in their care or shipping takes longer than usual. In these cases, please keep in touch with us and allow 30-45 days for the product to reach you. We are not responsible for the loss of a package once it has been transferred to your home country's postal service.

Please also be aware that international shipments may take up to 60 days to reach you, and tracking information may not be updated by the postal service regularly during this time. Please contact us directly if there are issues with the arrival of your package. PRI is not responsible for delays or mishandling of parcels by the postal service either domestically or internationally. PRI cannot guarantee a delivery date for your package.

Refunds, replacements, and/or exchanges will be provided at PRI's discretion for merchandise that is defective upon arrival. A refund, replacement, or exchange must be requested within 5 business days of item delivery as shown by tracking. Refunds and exchanges will be processed once the original defective item has been returned to us. PRI will provide a shipping label for such returns. For international customers, PRI may, at its discretion, opt not to have the item returned. In such cases, photographic evidence of the item defect will be required.
